TITLE: Arthur Eide Collection

COLLECTION NUMBER: B1970.028

OVERVIEW OF THE COLLECTION

Dates: circa 1898-1950

Extent: 3 boxes, 2.9 linear feet

Language and Scripts: The collection is in English and Norwegian.

Name of creator(s): Arthur Hansin Eide, Lomen Bros., Don C. Knudsen, U.S. Air Force, Winter and Pond Co., W.F. Durfee

Administrative/Biographical History:

Arthur Hansin Eide was a Presbyterian minister and teacher in Alaska in the 1900s. Eide was born in Norway and came to San Francisco on the S.S. Rupert in 1910. He met Annie Koodlalook, an Inupiat woman born in Point Barrow and adopted by Dr. Sheldon Jackson. Annie and Arthur were married and were sent as government representatives to Little Diomed Island. The two worked as schoolteachers, doctors, and commissioners to the people on the island. Annie was the first of Arthur Eide's five wives. After Little Diomed, Eide went to Point Barrow, building the Presbyterian mission hospital. From 1922, Arthur Eide was primarily based in Anchorage and lived in Spenard from 1939 to 1955. He had a weekly radio program on KFQD in 1942, telling his stories of Alaska. Eide died in 1972.

Scope and Content Description:

The collection consists of 487 photographs (black-and-white and tinted) as well as ephemera and newspaper clippings. The photographs include images of Alaska between the 1910s and 1940s. The subjects include life on Little Diomed Island, the native peoples of Barrow and Nome, Interior Alaska including Denali National Park, and Anchorage. The final item in the collection is an album of 100 black and white photographs of the Grand Canyon and Utah Mountains, along with various newspaper clippings. For more information, see Detailed Description of Collection.

Arrangement: Not applicable.
